

Table of contents

Foreword	4
1. Introduction	7
1.1. General	7
1.2. Definitions	7
1.3. Essential characteristics of PPP projects.....	7
1.4. Contractual and institutional PPPs.....	8
1.5. Major drivers for the PPP approach.....	8
1.6. Applicable law	9
1.6.1. Principal applicable legislation.....	9
1.6.2. Provisions for award of contractual PPPs.....	9
1.6.3. Provisions for award of institutional PPPs	10
1.6.4. In-house services	11
1.7. The need for an educated contracting authority.....	11
2. Identification of projects for PPP	12
2.1. Introduction	12
2.2. Identification process.....	12
2.3. Suitability assessment.....	12
2.4. Private initiatives.....	12
3. The preparation of projects for PPP	14
3.1. Definition of performance requirements.....	14
3.2. Degree of project preparation	15
3.2.1. General.....	15
3.2.2. Investigation of alternative solutions	15
3.3. The preparation of legal & financial aspects	17
3.3.1. Clauses regarding the contract award stage	17
3.3.2. Clauses regarding the contract execution stage	17
4. The award of a PPP project	20
4.1. The award procedure	20
4.2. Invitation to tender	20
4.3. Selection of suitable candidates	21
4.4. Discussion of legal & financial issues.....	21
4.5. Preparation of technical and financial proposals.....	22
4.6. Project award	22
5. Setting up the IPPP	24
5.1. Signing the contract for contractual PPPs.....	24
5.2. Establishment of institutional PPPs.....	24
6. Contracts awarded by concessionaires.....	25
7. Role of the engineering consultant.....	26
7.1. Scope of the engineering consultant	26
7.2. Significance of design in PPPs.....	27
8. References	28

Information on the European Federation of Engineering Consultancy Associations can be found on the internet at: www.efcanet.org

Published by the European Federation of Engineering Consultancy Associations, 2011

Publication date: February 2011

ISBN 978-90-75085-03-7

© European Federation of Engineering Consultancy Associations (2011)

Reproduction is authorised provided the source is acknowledged.

Printed in Belgium